THAT OLD COPPER.

THAT OLDS COPPER.

The case against William Hunt and Elias Walker, who according to the report in yesterday's Disparch, were charged with the larceny of two large copper plates valued at $10, was called. Of course neither one of them intended to steal anything that was of any value to any one else, but the Justice thought Walker could afford to live on the city for thirty days and Hunt just three times as long, and so decreed.

Isaac Taylor was the most unhappy little negro in town yesterday morning. He was whipped in court for scaling a watermacion. As the little fellow was being led away to receive his torture he seemed to look with imploring eyes upon the Justice, the significance being: "If a boy can't steal a watermelon, Mr. Judge, I would like to know what can he steal."

THE MANCHESTER CONVENTION.

ERREF FIRMS OF NEWS.

Mr. Edward Saunders and wife have returned to the city after a pleasant visit to their son, in Prince George county, Colonel E. H. Smith, of Arkansas, is here on a visit to Manchester, his old home. He has been out West many years.

Miss Minnie Lee Drewry has returned from Wytheville. Her cousin, Miss Powell, of Wytheville, came back with her, and will spend a few weeks here.

Crap-playing has become quite the popular game in this city, and nearly every day finds some little negro who has been gathered in the police scoop-net for such violation of the laws.

Mrs. Dr. Charles M. Garnett, of Culpeper, is visiting her nephew, Mr. C. C. Clarke, on Twenty-first and Everett streets. Mrs. Garnett was Miss Georgie Cunliff. This is her first visit to Manchester in thirty-three years.

Chief Puller Has a Narrow Escape from a Serious Accident.

The alarm of fire from station 49, Seventeenth and Washington streets, a few minutes after noon yesterday was caused by the burning of a few shingles on the house 556 Concord street. Sparks from a passing locomotive are supposed to have been the origin of the trouble. The damage was about $10.

Early Tuesday morning, while responding to an alarm, Chief Puller narrowly escaped meeting with a serious accident. When passing down Foushee street between Main and Franklin, the horse attached to his buggy shied violently. Looking to see what was the trouble the Chief found that his vehicle had just missed a large pile of sand and brick which extended far into the street and on which no light was displayed.

tended far into the street and on which no light was displayed.

Speaking to a Disparch man of the occurrence Chief Puller remarked that he is in constant dread of being injured from the failure of people to put lights on obstructions in the streets. But for the fact that his horse's eyes are sharper than his own, the Chief says he expects he would have been killed long ago.

C. G. Clark, a lawyer, who has been sending out circular-letrs to the effect that he could defeat mortgage foreclosures on homesteads, filed a motion in the District Court to have such a foreclosure set aside. After speaking about two hoors on the constitutional rights of American citizens as kid down by Jerry Sinpson, Mrs. Lease and others, he was coolly informed by Judge Houk that, so fur from having a case, if he had accepted a fee from his client on the representation that he could prevent foreclosure on such testimony and authority he ought to be prosecuted for obtaining money under false protences.

A high official of the British Foreign Office thinks it improbable that any immediate serious dispute will arise over the Sultan's permitting the Russian ship Moscow to pass through the Dardanelles. Official dispatches record the fact that the Moscows stoppage at the entrance to the straits was due to a breach of the regulation requiring that notice be sent to the Forte, and that the Sultan's firman be obtained before making the passage. The Russian Government replied that the customary notice was unnecessary, as the only military aboard were soldiers who had been discharged, having served their time. A similar case occurred in April, when a Russian ship under the commercial flag, carrying soldiers and war material, was permitted to pass through the Dardanelles. The British Ambassia of the nadvised the Sultan that Great Britain and the other signatory powers would take united action in the event of any material change in the Porte's policy in regard to the Dardanelles. The signatory Powers were beginzant of the Moscow incident, but do not consider it such a breach of the treaty of Paris as to require formal protest.

The Federal Attorney-General has decided an breach of the treaty of Paris as to require formal protest.

The Federal Attorney-General has decided an interesting question construing the effect of aremission of the sentence of a court-martial upon the standing of a naval officer. An officer was by sentence of a court-martial suspended from duty for a fixed time, with the condition that he was to retain his number in his grade until the expiration of the sentence. Before the sentence expired the unexecuted portion was remitted, but during its operation two officers had passed above the suspended officer in grade number. This officer, after the remission, holding that it was a pardon and carried with it a roctification of the continuing penalty from which he suffers in the advancement of the two officers over his number, sought to be placed upon the list at the point he would have obtained had the sentence not been enforced. The question was referred to the Atterney-General, who has decided that the remission of the unexecuted part of the sontence was not reproactive, and that such punishment as had been suffered while it was in operation could not be rectified. Therefore the officer's application has been rejected.

market continues to show a steadily de-creasing volume of business, and to-day the trading was only moderate outside of the half dozen stocks which still remain gray it has not washed away. prominent in the market. The buying ower seems to be checked for the moment and the bull leaders are letting the market take care of itself apparently, while liquidation makes some progress from day to day and the intermittent attacks of the cars tend to get prices down slowly. UNION PACIFIC STILL PROMINENT.

UNION PACIFIC STILL PROMINENT.

In to-day's market Union Pacific was still the prominent object of attention, and rumors were still thick, the one concerning the application for a receiver at Omaha making most mischief. The official denials which followed each one as issued seemed to have no material effect, but the stock was not as weak as yesterday, and late in the day the interest in its fluctuations was in great part transferred to other securities. More pressure was irongist to bear upon the Grangers, and Burlington and Rock Island especially bore the brunt of the attacks and at times exhibited considerable weakness.

THE GENERAL LIST QUIET. THE GENERAL LIST QUIET.

THE GENERAL LIST QUIST.

The general list was very quiet and the extreme fluctuations in but few cases reached I per cent. while stocks tollowed languidly the course of leaders without getting far away from the opening prices. The opening was comparatively quiet and heavy to weak, Union Pacific and Burlington each showing declines of $\frac{3}{2}$ per cent. from last night's figures, and in the early dealings, which were principally affected by the reports of trost in the Northwest, causing selling for Western account, there were further recessions in almost everything traded in.

CHESAFEAKE AND OHIO PROMINENT FOR

thing traded in.

CHESAPEAKE AND ORIO PROMINENT FOR STENACIE.

Wheeling and Lake Erie stocks and the Chesapeake and Ohio stocks were specially prominent for strength, however, and the latter made material advances on buying, supposed to be for insiders. The selling of the Grangers by their former principal supporters and of Union Pacific by foreigners encouraged the local bear element and they hammered the list all along the line. The reactions were in no case of importance until the last hour, when the losses in the Vanderbilts were largely made up, Canada Southern rising over 1 per cent, from its lowest figures. The per cent, from its lowest figures. The dealings in the Industrials were of no interest, although there were rumors affoat of intended movements in those shares.

THE CLOSE QUIET AND STEADY TO FIEM.

THE CLOSE QUIET AND STEADY TO FIRM.

The market continued to settle away slowly in most stocks but rapidly enough in the leaders until the last few minutes, trading, when the usual attempt to cover by room-traders resulted in a small rally, and the close was quiet but steady to firm at recoveries from the lowest points. The active list, however, shows invariable losses, with Rock Island and Reading down 1½, Burlington and Canada Southern 1½, St. Faul and Missouri Pacific 1½, Northern Facific preferred, and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis 1½, and Atchison and New England 1 per cent. The sales of listed stocks aggregated 355,000 shares; of unisted, 6,600 shares.

buyers dropping in again.

Planters are in the midst of curing and cutting tobacco, and will likely ship little till this most important work is completed.

Sun-cured sales held out six weeks longer than was often predicted the crop would last, but are now smaller. Bad crop reports are not yel perceptibly affecting prices here, though there are many anxious inquiries about crop conditions and mental speculations as to early frost, usually indulged in at this season.

A reliable planter from Nash county North Carolina, now in Richmond, says of the crop of tobacco of that productive and new tobacco section that there were no worms; that the earliest cut was best; that nearly all the erop of Nash has been cut; that the crop is thin and poor and frog-cyed; that there are a few scattering better crops only; that has year he planted twenty-two acres and cured therefrom fifty barms of tobacco; that this year he planted twenty-two acres and cured therefrom fifty barms of tobacco; that they goar he planted twenty-dwa acres, from which he cured only thirty barms; that much tobacco will come to Richmond to be sold loose if our buyers will bid at home as they do when they send their orders to other markets.
